WATER SUPPLY FEASIBILITY STUDIES EXPERIENCE SUMMARY

WEST BASIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT

Owner/Project:

West Basin Municipal Water District, Dominguez Channel Inland Water Supply Study Carson, CA

Project Dates: 2009

Key Project Features:

Assessment of:

- Water quality issues
- Potential jurisdictional issues
- Institutional Issues
- Permitting requirements
- Environmental and regulatory issues

Dominguez Channel

Project Description:

DDB Engineering provided jurisdictional, institutional, and permitting and regulatory assessment for a conceptual study to assess the feasibility of developing the Dominguez Channel as a new water supply source.

OLIVENHAIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT

Owner/Project:

Olivenhain Municipal Water District, Opportunities and Constraints Analysis for Potable Water Supply Encinitas, CA

Project Dates: 2009-2010

Key Project Features:

Assessment of:

- Water quality issues
- Potential jurisdictional issues
- Permitting requirements
- Environmental and regulatory issues

San Elijo Lagoon

Project Description:

DDB Engineering, Inc. provided an assessment of jurisdictional, environmental, permitting and regulatory issues associated with development of Eastern San Elijo Lagoon/Western Escondido Creek and/or San Dieguito Groundwater Basin as source waters for potable water system(s).